GUEST PREACHER

Reverend Dr. Jennifer Wright Knust, ordained American Baptist minister and Assistant Professor of New Testament and Christian Origins. Professor Knust teaches and conducts research on the transmission and reception of the Gospels, ancient rhetoric and early Christian discourse, and gender and Christian origins. Her publications include Abandoned to Lust: Sexual Slander and Ancient Christianity (Columbia University Press 2005), Sacrifice in the Ancient Mediterranean (edited with Zsuzsanna Varhelyi, Oxford University Press), as well as essays on a variety of topics, including the letters of Paul, Latin versions of the Bible, and the transmission of the story of the woman taken in adultery (John 7:53-8:11).

“The American Baptist Women of Philadelphia made it possible for me to receive my first call at a time when no one else would take me seriously. I will never forget it.”

~ Jennifer Knust

She has received fellowships and awards from the American Association of University Women, the American Council of Learned Societies, the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study, and the Association of Theological Schools/Henry Luce III Foundation.

WORSHIP LEADER

Carrie Janet King-Woodson, a native of Rockingham, North Carolina embodies all things music. She has played the organ and piano in church since the age of 7. Carrie is the Assistant Minister of Music of Concord Baptist Church, and she continues to minister musically at her home church 12th Baptist Church and the Charles Street A.M.E. Renaissance Music Program. She also serves as the minister of music for Women’s Day Choirs and workshops in the greater Boston area.

PANELISTS

On the Homefront
